IN MEMORY by Louise McDermott

On a battle scarred slope of a foreign field
the poppies blew alone.
Years have passed since the guns were stilled
and we brought our war dead home.
We brought them home they may lie
in a land they died to save.
And from the ground they watered with their blood,
in memory the poppies wave.
In memory too we will wear a flower
made by the ones who know
The sacrifice of those who gave their all in the land where poppies grow.

THE JUNIOR MEMBERS OF THE LEGION AUXILIARY WILL DISTRIBUTE MEMORIAL POPPIES HERE MAY 23.

OUT OF THE PAST

MAY DAYS

Shedding the winter flannels for the flour-sack BVDs. Stepping lightly the first few barefoot days with the pleasant ishy coolness of a mud puddle. Chagrined by "cutting" your foot in the cow pasture. And the strange affinity a dog had for his master's bare tootsies.

Then cramming at school to bring up your grades and escape the final exams. Joining the faculty and fellow students in cleaning up OUR school yard. Then taking a picnic hike to Measures' timber. Old George, our family sorrel pulled the two seated carriage for Aunt Loa and the lunch pails. The kids used shanks horses and were loaded down with a varied assortment of bats, balls and the like.

Graduation day and the grade school program which was climaxed by the colorful May Pole dance. Dozens of wild flowers were gathered in the timber where they grew in abundance. These were used to decorate the church for commencement.

Memorial Day. A day of quiet pride for the Boys in Blue for they had fought their brothers to make men free.

SPRING ADVENTURE by Janice Kuehl

Tick, tock, spring is here and the bears are waking dear.
Tick, tock, grass is on the lawn and ducks are on the pond.
Flowers grow; got to hoe.
Time for love, time for love, time for love my little dove.
Clean spring air is in your hair, time for joy little boy.
Spring is here, spring is here.

The way to make a man forget a favor is to do him one.

Allspice grows on a tree in Jamaica. So named because its flavor resembles a mixture of clove, cinnamon and nutmeg. A favorite in cooking pot roasts. Good in puddings, sauces, preserving and pickling. Add a dash of ground allspice to tomato sauce.
